U.S. Probation Officer Action:

Mr. Torres-Olmedo was sentenced by Your Honor to time served and a three-year term of supervised release for Possession with Intent to Distribute Cocaine. His term of supervision commenced on August 16, 2022. Mr. Torres-Olmedo resides with his mother and siblings in Union City, New Jersey. He is currently employed as a construction worker at High Ground Industrial earning $25 hourly.

On August 25, 2022, Mr. Torres-Olmedo completed an intake and assessment at Addictions and Mental Health Services in Jersey City for co-occurring services. Mr. Torres-Olmedo was referred for services based on his diagnosis of bipolar disorder, anxiety, schizoaffective disorder, and polysubstance use. He stated he discontinued his psychotropic medications due to their side effects and feeling lethargic. Mr. Torres-Olmedo was being prescribed Suboxone by this provider. He was not receiving substance abuse counseling and admitted he was not taking the Suboxone as prescribed, stating he did not need it. Our office does not contract with this provider, which creates some barriers to the recommended treatment.

Accordingly, on March 1, 2023, Mr. Torres-Olmedo completed a mental health evaluation at Somerset Psychological Services. Based on the information provided during his intake, it appears he minimized his illegal substance use. Mr. Torres-Olmedo will be participating in mental health treatment with this provider moving forward.

Mr. Torres-Olmedo is scheduled for a substance abuse intake and assessment at Oaks Integrated Care on March 30, 2023, to determine the level and frequency of treatment needed. He admitted to using several illegal substances recently but pleaded with the undersigned officer and asked that he be allowed to participate in outpatient treatment to maintain his employment. He stated he rather be incarcerated than participate in a residential program. Our office is willing to allow Mr. Torres-Olmedo an opportunity to prove his ability to remain abstinent.

The probation office will continue to conduct random urinalysis tests to ensure he is abstaining from illicit substance use. Currently, the probation office is respectfully requesting no formal Court action.

Respectfully submitted,

SUSAN M. SMALLEY, Chief
U.S. Probation Officer
